EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Mormon Intrigues

NEW YORK, April 1—The Times will take [illegible] correspondence proceeds to disclose the details of the scheme under which the Mormons are arranging to escape to Salt Lake and take possession of New Mexico, and thus get into the Union under that name. The correspondent says its admission as a State. The correspondent says the initiatory steps are already taken, and that in a short time several thousand Mormons will start for New Mexico. In a general way this movement has been on foot for a considerable time but nothing definite, except suspicion until July last, when several trouble governors of Utah and well known, S B Axtell late governor of Utah, and confidential and high in the favor and confidence of Brigham, was transferred to the government of New Mexico, in which capacity he could lend the scheme the aid and manipulate the Indian and Spanish Mormon church among the Indian and Jewish people of that Territory. Immediately on taking his new field of operations Axtell began his work, and soon after signs appeared indicating something suspicious in the wind. Several Mormon elders were secretly dispatched to New Mexico to prepare the country and begin the work of proselyting among the superstitious natives. These [went] by the Colorado river, and, it is thought, interviewed the Indian tribes on the way. They arrived in the southern portion of New Mexico where they are understood to have located and to be at work. About the same time the authorities of the church here became suddenly possessed with the manifold beauties and importance of the Spanish language. Orders were given to all young priests to begin to study it forthwith, at once the leading branch it was made in the schools. The book of Mormon was translated into Spanish and the disciples went vigorously to work studying it. Preparations were made to gain possession of large tracts of land in New Mexico by purchase of some of the Spanish grants outright, and of an interest in others. The Legislature of New Mexico, under the dictation of a ring of speculators, recently passed a law by which the district courts can order the whole of a grant to be sold at public auction upon such notice as it sees fit, upon demand of any of the parties in interest, no matter how small that interest may be. By this means all these grants are to be forced to sale for cash and as titles are in an unsettled state and most of the papers and records are in the hands of the ring there can be little competition in bidding, and lands will be obtained at nominal figures. It is arranged that Brigham and his apostles are to furnish most of the money to pay for the lands, and they will take possession immediately under color of Territorial law until certain bills now pending introduced by the delegate from New Mexico, S P Elkins, for confirmation by Congress of a large number of these claims can become laws of the United States. The bill for admission of New Mexico as a State is also to be pushed to its passage under the pressure of a strong lobby interested in the land speculations. This bill gives to the Governor chief justice and United States attorney unlimited power in fixing the time of the election notice to be given, the qualifications of the voter and the manner of selection of the members of the constitutional convention. In case of its passage several thousand Mormons will be at once hurried into New Mexico in time to vote at this election to overcome the present vote which is understood to be largely against the State project. The correspondent is also assured that influential personages in Washington are interested in the scheme on the basis of a "divy" from the proceeds of sales of lands to Mormons. By getting possession of the land grants they will control nearly all the valuable lands in the Territory and can exclude the Gentiles by refusing to sell them any. Furthermore, the bill for the admission provides that the Territory may come into the Union at once upon the adoption of resolutions without further action by Congress, and these people can make a constitution which will render them almost an independent sovereignty under the plan of keeping out Gentiles as men choose. Judges and juries will be entirely under the control of the Mormons, and we shall be confronted with the spectacle of a despotism unequaled this side of Turkey. If the scheme succeeds it will turn New Mexico wholly over to the followers of Brigham Young and the long sought kingdom of Mormon will be at last established under the authority of the government of the United States. Its success is [illegible] certain by the faithful here, so much so that if the State bill for New Mexico passes the House I am assured emigration will begin at once and go on without cessation until the [illegible] have occupied the Territory.

This morning the clerk found the key to the office and had been taken out of his pants during the night. He hurried below where the safe was found to be open, with the key in the door. Decision Affirmed.

WASHINGTON, April 1—The Secretary of the Interior has affirmed the decision of the Commissioner of the General Land Office in the case of M R C Pulliam et al mineral claimants vs James Hunter involving the character of the land in Marysville land district California claimed by Hunter under the pre-emption law as agricultural land. The secretary is fully persuaded that the land in question is more valuable for mining than for agriculture and can be disposed of only under the mining laws. It is shown that the tract is in the centre of the mineral belt of California, and in the centre of a deposit that has been worked on either side and found to yield gold in paying quantities; that the agricultural claimant has bought out of his land being valuable for mining and has offered to dispose of it at a large price for such purposes; that claimant to reach this land has been continually in process of construction since August 1870 except one month during the winter of 1870-71 which they thought [illegible] failed and large sums of money have been [illegible] expended to bring water to this and the neighboring tracts in order to afford the necessary facilities for hydraulic mining and to prove its valuable mineral character.

THE BELKNAP INVESTIGATION.

Continuation of C. F. Bell's Testimony

Q. Was that the purpose [illegible] that C L Luckey told you to render him? A. It was to [illegible] and find out all I could. I was to state that at the time I believe from conversations I heard in the district attorney's office and among many influential men outside that this attempt to implicate Babcock was made for the purpose of injuring the President whom I had served under [illegible] the war and for whom I had a strong regard. These men claimed to be strong friends of Bristow. I saw many telegrams that passed between Washington and the district attorney and others and it looked that way. I believed that until another matter came up there and then I thought the parties in there were acting with no authority and perhaps were over anxious and I believed it until I came to Washington. When I came here I found I was on the wrong track and I dropped out of the case. [illegible] no assistance after wards to cause information to reach the President that the idea was wrong.

Question—That's you thought Babcock not guilty? A—That he was guilty.

Q. You informed the President that Babcock was guilty? A. I took measures to inform him I believed he was guilty. I did it because the President told me that if Babcock was guilty he wished to know it. He wished nothing concealed and wished him punished. I took the President at his word and informed him of it and I got my dismissal in three days afterwards.

Q—Had you any conversation with Babcock with regard to this matter? If any time Babcock admitted to you he was guilty, please state it. A—His admission was clear enough. [illegible] he wanted me to get evidence out of the office and destroy it. It was clear enough.

Q. Did he admit to you that he was guilty? A. I told him what Bradley asked me to do in St Louis and instead of dissenting, he said he did not wish me to get evidence out of that office unless I could get the whole of it. That if I got part it would be worse than none. Bradley asked me to get the evidence out of the office and bring it to the Lindell Hotel and destroy it. This proposition was made after Luckey came East. He told me to consult with Bradley and that Bradley was there in the interest of Babcock and that this whole move was not against Babcock but against the President and for me to consult with Bradley and act with him.

Q. And Bradley told you to get the evidence out of the district attorney's office and bring it to the Lindell Hotel to be destroyed? A—He did.

Q—Did you attempt to get it? A—No sir I thought that was going too far in the matter.

Q—When you came back here you say you had a conversation with Babcock? A—Yes sir I related all I had seen and heard in St Louis and I told him of this proposal of Bradley's. The matter was talked over between us afterward and he remarked that if I got it I would be well rewarded. I told him I did not like to go into it. I also met his counsel, Storrs was at Babcock's house six or seven times, I gave them a written report of all that I had seen and heard at St Louis. I have it a copy of the report, General Babcock I suppose has the report. I had given them that report previous to this talk about getting the evidence and up to the time of making that report I still thought the matter was intended as a political move, but when I found out it was wrong I dropped it and went from here to New York and did not return to Washington till about the month of February last. I then took the President at his word and took measures to send him information that Babcock was guilty. I should have stated that I gave the thing up after Bradley left St Louis which was a night or two after Luckey left and I went to Kentucky, Lexington Kentucky from there I wrote to Bradley and asked him to return my letter and he did so, and enclosed me a note [illegible] with the following:

WASHINGTON, D C, Feb 15 1876

C S BELL—Yours received. I am authorized to [illegible] you to come on at once [illegible] [illegible]

A C BRADLEY

It was intended I should be appointed special agent to the Attorney General's office and be sent to St Louis to continue my work and there is a key to cipher that was given to me to communicate with [illegible]. The witness here produced the original of the cipher published in the New York Herald of February 19th.

Q. Were you appointed in the Attorney General's office? A—I was not, but I was appointed and had a card from the President to Attorney General Pierrepont similar to the one I had to Secretary Chandler, and the Attorney General delayed the appointment from day to day.

Q—The object of your going, was to get hold of testimony? A—It was to see what was going on.

Q—Is this cipher in Luckey's handwriting? A—Most of it.

Q—Did you ever communicate with Luckey by means of this cipher? A. I did not because I was not appointed by the Attorney General to go out there.

Q—How did you communicate the information to the President that you believed Babcock was guilty? A—I went three times and tried to have an interview with him and failed and then I put the thing in a shape that I could get it to him. I got it to him through a newspaper. I put it in that way because I did not care to trust anything in writing then to go to the President. I had made up my mind that the case was in such a shape that I could do nothing more with it and dropped it.

Q—In what newspaper did you make the publication? A. In the New York Herald. I marked a copy and sent it to the President. I have reason to believe it reached him.

Q. Were you to be employed in the District Attorney's office at St Louis for any other purpose than an attempt to prevent the conviction of Babcock? A—That was what they understood but the President I am [illegible] I believe he [illegible] [illegible]

District Attorney Dyer's Testimony.

WASHINGTON, April 1—The committee [illegible] expenditures [illegible] Dyer [illegible] attorney at St Louis in reference to the [illegible] [illegible] testified yesterday. [illegible]

[illegible] came to the district attorney's office [illegible] I was [illegible] to believe any papers in his possession to [illegible] Bell was [illegible] the government. Bell was [illegible] correspondence that passed between Dyer, Avery and Babcock. He wrote a note to the warden of the jail and asked him to deliver the papers to Bell the bearer. Bell subsequently [illegible] during the time of the trial. Witness [illegible] him at the house of [illegible] the government. He had got Avery papers from the district attorney's office and exhibited them to Avery and [illegible] at the Lindell Hotel. Witness asked him the character of the papers in order to ascertain the truth of the statement of Bell. He had a pencil memorandum from Bell ford Wilson and a dispatch from the treasury asking the witness to [illegible] to the secretary's room. He remembered he had had such papers in his possession and was satisfied from Bell's conversation that he knew nothing of the disappearance of the documentary dispatches signed B [illegible] Bell said he had certain documents in his possession in New York, and had told him to [illegible] them to be forwarded [illegible] mainly that the papers consisted of a cipher partially in his and partly in Luckey's handwriting, also a letter from A C Bradley telling him to come to Washington and he would be cared for. The substance of his statement was that a proposition had been made to him by Luckey and Babcock to extract the testimony in the Babcock case from the district attorney's office. Witness had been very careful of the dispatches and letters relating to the Babcock case because he feared some such explosion was meditated in the Avery case. He placed them in a [illegible] and deposited them in the safe deposit vault. Before that Bell was one day seen in the district attorney's office overhauling some papers and was informed nobody was allowed to do that in the absence of Colonel Dyer. Bell excused himself by saying he was hunting for matches to light his cigar.

Bell soon after his proposition to furnish this information delivered to him the cipher and the Bradley letter. After the trial he returned them to Bell and has not seen them since, except as printed in New York Herald. These papers were not produced until nearly the close of the trial. The reason they were not used in evidence was because Luckey was summoned there for the government and was finally claimed as a witness for defense. At a consultation between witness and his associates Broadhead and Eaton, as to the advisability of calling Bell as a witness it was decided to wait until Luckey was put on the stand and then produce Bell in rebuttal. It was understood Bradley was there also to be called by the defense, and it was intended that Bell should not be brought in as a witness in chief. Had the prosecution known and believed that the defense would not call Luckey they would have brought Bell forward and used him as witness in chief. Bell who was in the room asked Col Dyer whether it was because of his supposed unreliability he was not put upon the stand. Dyer answered that when he told him he had stolen a very important paper from the district attorney's office he did not look upon him as a witness he wanted to go to without corroborative evidence, and he did not believe much in him until he got all the papers, but if Luckey had been called he would certainly have put Bell on the stand in rebuttal. Bell then asked Dyer if in such cases extraordinary means were not necessary to get evidence. Dyer said he was not in that kind of business and did not feel competent to answer the question. He never found it necessary either as prosecuting lawyer or otherwise to resort to such means either to purchase the abstraction or the suppression of evidence, or any such violent and questionable tactics. That was not his way of conducting business.

Dyer said Bell's testimony was substantially correct as far as he had seen it printed in the Washington papers so far as it referred to him. Bell was in error in correct in locating the conversation at the district attorney's office. It took place at the house of Lucien Eaton, one of his associate counsel.

[illegible] the Washington attorney whose name has figured so prominently in connection with obtaining post traderships from Gen. Belknap was examined to day before the sub committee of the judiciary committee. He gave his story of four post traderships in Texas and New Mexico which he procured for various parties. His compensation varied. From one party he got $2,000 another $5,000 from a third he got one half of the net profits, and from a fourth he got one third of the net profits. He and Belknap had been residents of Keokuk, Iowa, had served together in the war and were on friendly and intimate terms. Since his success in getting those appointments he denied Gen Belknap knew anything of the money, which Rice received for these appointments. He denied that he had ever given or loaned any sums to Belknap except to some trifling amount which had been always repaid, and never given him any presents except perhaps some wine and cigars and a small wedding present to his wife.

EMMA MINE INVESTIGATION.

WASHINGTON, April 1—The counsel for Jas Lyon read to the committee on foreign affairs to day a statement on behalf of his client in which it is stated that the charges made in the preliminary statement of Mr Schenck that Johnson and Lyon were then of infamous character, and unworthy of credit under oath were wantonly made and utterly untrue being a man who had occupied the high position of trust honor and confidence of his country. Another statement that Lyon had absconded from England is pronounced false and the production of proof is challenged. Lyon was then cross examined at length by the Hidden counsel for General Schenck. Before the statement of above alluded to was received Mr Faulkner, the other members of the committee consenting and counsel for Lyon not objecting, struck from it all purely personal references to Gen Schenck and changed the character of [illegible] to a more decent. The other changes were also made.

In the meantime the Liberal members have been notified to be in their seats on Monday to support Earl Shaftesbury's motion for an address to the Queen praying her not to assume the title of Empress.

A CREDIT CURRENCY

The fatal defect of a currency based purely on credit as the phrase goes, is that it would be convertible into no fixed quantity of anything and so would represent nothing.—N Y Times.

Why the assumption that a currency based partly on credit would be convertible into no fixed quantity of anything and so would represent nothing. Currency reformers do not propose an inconvertible currency. On the contrary they propose to make the present inconvertible currency (greenbacks) convertible or redeemable. How convertible or redeemable. In government interest paying bonds. Would such a currency represent nothing? There is no species of property in Great Britain possessing more steadiness of value than the consol. Into Ocean.

The amount of ignorance and knavery exhibited in the above dozen lines is amazing. The interest on the British consols is paid in gold. When they are purchased by the government from the surplus revenues, the payment is made in gold. The brokers give gold for them and they are not bought or sold, for dealing, except for coin or its equivalent.

The class of persons who call themselves currency reformers propose a convertible bond exchangeable into nothing that possesses intrinsic value. Their currency is to be paid in paper redeemable in nothing but those bonds and the bonds are to be payable in nothing except the green backs paper. The [illegible] [illegible] understood by business men who [illegible] credit [illegible] given or [illegible] expectation of future payment for something given as money or goods. But this [illegible] currency is not to be in the nature [illegible] promise to pay anything tangible or valuable. Each piece of stamped paper is to be considered [illegible] without any promise to pay [illegible] [illegible] faith, faith that people will accept it in exchange for labor food, cloth, fuel, [illegible] and that those who will take it for medicines. As the Times says it is to represent nothing and is to be converted into no fixed quantity of anything except moonshine and bonds made of the same unsubstantial stuff.—Baltimore Gazette.

The Proposed Anti-Chinese Meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO April 1—The citizens anti Chinese committee met last evening. The committee was notified that Governor Irwin could preside at the mass meeting on Wednesday evening. The committee on resolutions asked for further time to report. Reports of sub committees were to the effect that Union Hall had been engaged and arrangements made for street speaking and a number of prominent citizens had signified their willingness to address the meeting. No trouble whatever about obtaining ample funds to liquidate the expenses of the meeting. A communication was read from a number of the county officials and citizens of Butte county expressing sympathy with the object of the proposed meeting. A committee was appointed to invite the presence of a delegation from Butte county. The committee then adjourned till next Monday evening at 8 o clock.

Among the many reports concerning the delay in the departure of the steamer City of San Francisco one is to the effect that Hart, the former agent of the line in China had put an attachment on her but that his claim had been settled allowing her to depart. The passenger agent of the Pacific Mail states that the cause of the detention was an order from Sir Daniel Cooper, of the New South Wales government.

Frauds in San Francisco Custom House.

Recent disclosures of semi-official character render it beyond doubt that frauds of a most extensive character have been perpetrated on the customs department at this port. Close observation and careful estimates show that goods, the duties on which would amount to not less than $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 annually enter the country without paying a cent. The largest part, perhaps, of this business is carried on by the steamers of the Pacific Mail line between New York, San Francisco and Panama. Valuable merchandise is landed at Panama, which is a free port, and in transhipment there is substituted for other packages which have been shipped from San Francisco to New York and vice versa as coastwise freight, thus escaping duty. Large quantities of Mexican wool are smuggled into the State from Santa Catalina Island off the coast of Santa Barbara. There is an excellent harbor there, but no customs officers. The wool is landed there from Mexico, then shipped here as wool shorn from flocks on the island. It is believed that these frauds, in connection with other loose and corrupt practices in the custom house here, cost the government nearly 50 per cent of the revenue that should be collected here. It is probable that the matter will soon be brought more prominently to the public attention by action in Washington.

A Quack against the Chinese.

The white citizens anti Chinese committee were in session last evening at the rooms of the board of supervisors. A well known quack doctor, somewhat noted for his political aspirations, mounted a stand on Kearny street, near the city hall and made an inflammatory harangue which soon had the effect to call together a crowd of Barbary Coast rangers and passersby. The meeting was disposed to be somewhat riotous and disorderly, and several passing Chinamen were hustled, kicked and otherwise roughly treated. The whole affair meets with the unqualified condemnation of the respectable portion of the community.

The Six Companies Address.

The address published by the six Chinese companies alleging that the influx of their countrymen is against their advice and wishes is generally considered a blind. The Chronicle this morning publishes the substance of interviews with a number of the heads of Chinese companies, whose utterances are to the same effect as the published address viz. that they have no control over the Chinese population and merely assist them with advice, and money if needed in difficulty, that they are as much opposed as the whites to great immigration and profess to favor a modification of the Burlingame treaty tending to prevent it.

Fire

About 2½ this afternoon a fire broke out in the rear of German & Holmes hay barn in the block between Main, Spear, Market and Mission streets. A stiff breeze was blowing from the west, and the flames instantly spread through the barn and communicated with the lumber sheds of Nealon & Young and S S Smith on the south and of Starbird & Goldstone on the north, burning through in that direction to Spear street in the vicinity of crowded lumber yards and manufacturing establishments, and a general conflagration for a while was imminent but the fire department soon got the flames under control. German & Holmes lose about $7,000, small insurance. Nealon & Young's loss is not less than $8,000 insured. Smith's loss is from $5,000 to $6,000 and Starbird & Goldstone are damaged about $2,000 insured. The cause of the fire is unknown but it is supposed that sparks from the adjoining establishment of Brignardello & Co's marble mill, which was running late last evening lodged in the hay and smouldered during the intervening time.

Found Dead.

Edw. J. Lawrence was found dead this morning at his lodgings 12 Jessie street. It is supposed he died from the effects of poison as a bottle of strychnine was found in the bureau drawer and a bottle containing water and strychnine on the bureau. The deceased had been employed as a cook or dishwasher at Dubbs Hotel Oakland and at the naval hospital Mare Island.

The story of the man being robbed in Pierce county recently of $1,000 lacks corroboration.

The quail turned loose near Olympia a month ago have increased rapidly and there are several hundreds of them now.

As election day approaches the contest for the mayoralty of Olympia grows warm between J C Horn and I L M Leroy.

A correspondent at Puyallup thinks work on the coal road will be commenced in about two months and be finished this year.

The spring and summer term of the Union Academy at Olympia commences April 20th. There will be no vacation between terms.

There are now 12 prisoners in the jail at Port Madison, eight of whom are Territorial, one from Jefferson, one from Snohomish and two from Kitsap counties.

Silver salmon have begun to make their appearance at Port Madison harbor and it is the opinion of the fishermen that this class of fish will be plenty this season.

The missionary convocation will be held at the Episcopal church in Vancouver this week commencing on Thursday evening and continuing over Sunday, to be conducted by Bishop Morris, assisted by the Rev Mr. Nicholson and several of the clergy from abroad.

The Independent learns that the name of the newly appointed register of the land office at Vancouver is Wm H Smallwood instead of W H Small as was telegraphed at the time of the Senate confirmation. His arrival is anxiously looked for by the many people who have business in this office.

The Olympia Echo says: Reports continue to come in, of rotting potatoes. Secure your seed as soon as you can. It will be difficult if not impossible to procure any a few weeks hence. Early Rose potatoes are now held at two dollars a bushel—and are none too plenty at that price. It is feared by some that we must abandon the potato as a field crop.

Mr. Bigelow, of Olympia, says there's sufficient of unoccupied land within the town corporation of that place upon which to raise plums of the annual value of $1,000,000, and we say wisdom dictates that the plums, or various other products of equal value in the aggregate, first be raised, and that the railroad be built afterwards.

The "Major" Reeves who is reported to have been robbed of nearly a thousand dollars recently, in Pierce county, acted very queerly. Before his reported loss he is said to have visited the reservation and told the Indians that he was "a brother of George Washington," and that he had been sent to order the Indians to leave the reservation.

A sad accident occurred last week to a young Swede named Peter Nort Strom, in the employ of the Port Gamble mill company. While running the lumber car at night, he made a misstep and fell from the rail track to the lower or lumber wharf, a distance of 15 feet, striking on the pit of the stomach across a track beam. All hope for his life for a time was given up.

The Walla Walla Spirit says Mrs S. C. Jones, a farmer's wife not often met with, hauled this spring ten thousand fence rails from the mountains all alone, put seventy-five acres in wheat, with a gang plow, prepared a fine garden, milks regularly eighteen cows twice a day, makes butter once a week, keeps four hundred and twenty laying hens and disposes of their produce, which supplies the family with all their groceries, attends to her household like a dutiful wife and takes care of four interesting young children.

THOMAS KEENE, INVENTOR

A MAN WHOSE INGENUITY HAS ENRICHED MANY, NOT INCLUDING HIMSELF.

Thomas Keene, an infirm old man, tottered into the New York police court yesterday morning with four bundles, which he piled together on the floor in the prisoner's dock and sat down upon. He was accused of drunkenness, and he acknowledged that he had been intoxicated but gave as a reason that he had been seeing his two sons off to California. He told the justice that he did not accompany them because he had an invention that he wanted to show at the Centennial Exhibition this summer. Justice Kilbreth discharged him, and when he reached the street he placed his bundles in a row on a stoop, and to a small audience told the story of his inventions.

"Over forty years ago," said he, "I went a fishing near Newburg, taking a pair of scissors with me to trim my bait. I caught a fish, and thoughtlessly clipped its tail off, throwing the fish back into the water. Afterward I noticed that I could catch that fish whenever I desired to, for with the loss of his tail went his propelling power."

Mr Keene told his brother of this occurrence, and both set to work to profit by the knowledge. John Townsend, afterward mayor of Albany, furnished them with money to carry on experiments, with a view to propelling vessels on the principle that fish were moved. Mr Keene proposed to extend the sweep of the fish tail all the way round and thus get a rotary motion. His brother suggested there should be three or four fishtails. The result was the propeller wheel which was soon used on three-quarters of the steam vessels in the world. They got $5,000 from Mr. Townsend for the invention. Afterward Mr. Keene invented a vise and Thomas Cooper, a brother of Peter Cooper gave him $1,600 for it. His next invention was a screw wrench, for which John Lewis gave him $1,400. When he was questioned about the nature of the invention he is going to take to the Centennial Exhibition, he said it was a device for the cure of lameness. He had invented other things, though one of which would startle the world, he said but which he would not explain. He evaded his questioners, and hastily picking up his bundles, tottered away toward Washington square.

The man who painted Patience as a healthy looking female perched on a chunk of sandstone never saw an editor chewing the end of a pencil, whilst three compositors stood in the back ground yelling for copy.

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 3, 1876.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

[illegible] republican county convention of this county have issued [illegible] call for a convention to elect delegates to the Republican State convention [illegible] which [illegible] invite to participation in the primaries all persons who desire the success of the Republican party and are willing to support the [illegible] at the [illegible]. How [illegible] expect [illegible] to the [illegible] are [illegible] politics [illegible] [illegible] the nominations [illegible] [illegible] knows [illegible] [illegible] party and will support the [illegible] if they are reasonably g[ood] [illegible] pledge themselves to support [illegible] whether [illegible] The citizen has got above the partisan in a very large proportion of the Republican party and with all [illegible] to [illegible] their support to any set of [illegible] that the candidates [illegible] their support which fact [illegible] until the nominations are made [illegible] citizen to use his best [illegible] to get a good ticket selected [illegible] failing in this to help to [illegible] this party. And that [illegible] prevailing among the people [illegible] extent that the only way for [illegible] or any other party to [illegible] success. We hope to [see] a good ticket put up by the Republicans so Republicans who are not Republicans for the sake of party plunder [illegible] support it. And to this end we trust no one will refuse to do whatever he can to secure a convention that will command the confidence of the people of the State. So far we have seen the call of this county [illegible] those of other counties [illegible] attempt to pledge the people to [illegible] Fortunately the doctrine that the citizen taking part in the primary meeting thereby binds himself to support [illegible] afterwards has [illegible] and the citizen who thinks it his duty to use his endeavors in the primaries to secure a fair convention no longer considers himself estopped [illegible] exercise his best judgment at the polls or at any other stage, to get good officers by any lawful means. The primaries should be attended. They are under the methods now in vogue in politics the most important of all political gatherings. All who expect to support Republican candidates in preference to those of equal qualifications nominated by the opposition should cast their votes in the primaries. Thus much is due to party, to citizenship and to the country. No Democratic notions of the conclusiveness of primary meetings should stand in the way, to prevent the citizen from doing his duty.

MORTON FOR PRESIDENT.

The Republican Convention of Mississippi sends to the National Convention a delegation almost unanimous for Senator Morton for President. Morton is understood to be Grant's candidate, and of course all the State Conventions controlled by the carpet baggers, which we take it is about the same as saying the conventions of all the reconstructed States, will be for him. This is a strong showing. The candidate who has all these delegations [illegible], has a nucleus of strength which is not to be despised. But it would be most astonishing and fatal folly for the National Convention to make its nomination with reference to the influence of these States in the final contest. They can send up strong delegations to the National Convention but when it comes to the electoral vote they will all be on the side of the Democratic candidate. Mississippi could not give Morton a single electoral vote if he were nominated. No more could the rest of the Southern States with not more than two or three exceptions at most while his nomination would [illegible] all the doubtful States in the North to the Democracy. President Grant is pushing his opposition to Blaine and insisting upon naming his own successor is doing the party irreparable injury. Should he succeed in the second convention there is much reason to [illegible] the people would express in November [illegible] of the evil of a Democratic administration rather than commit them [illegible] for four years more to the policy and methods which have [illegible] during the last two or three [illegible].

THE BLOODY CHASM.

A Democratic exchange expresses the [illegible] that in referring to the corruption [illegible] while Secretary of War [illegible] to reopen the bloody [illegible]. We had never supposed [illegible] which in common with all [illegible] country we desired to [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] and other turbulent spirits to a fever heat and then sent for General [illegible] who had been banished to Lyons for his red republican proclivities to take command of the [illegible] [illegible] for [illegible] The day after his arrival [illegible] the city [illegible] the scene. They [illegible] Train and his private secretary Beans on the [illegible] [illegible] Train never wavered [illegible] the American [illegible] [illegible] in the [illegible] American patriot left the country.

The Spartans in ancient days had a custom of black broth which they esteemed very highly as being very strengthening, and a restorative of waning vigor. It has for a long time been a vexed question as to what this broth was; some saying it to have been thought to be blood pudding, but the most recent and most generally accepted opinion is that it was black coffee made thick and strong after the manner followed by the Arabians and a portion of the Turkish people at the present day. This way of making black coffee produces a mixture of the consistency of good bean soup which is not clarified and which is as strong as well and powerful thing that may be selected as a standard. The Arabs and Turks [illegible] to the belief that coffee thus made and drank is an antidote to the bad effects of excessive smoking, besides being more palatable than the translucent decoction in vogue with Europeans.

When the New York Democratic State Central Committee met on the 10th ult. to select a time and place for choosing delegates to the National Democratic Convention at St. Louis the hopes of Governor Tilden received a discouraging danger. The friends of the Governor desired to have the State convention meet at Albany on the 19th of April and also desired to procure a recommendation [illegible] of the Governor [illegible] the Presidency of the United States but the Tammany Democrats headed by John Kelly opposed this and it was finally determined to hold the State convention at Utica on the 26th and that the delegates be left untrammeled by any pledges.

The Indianapolis J[ournal] [illegible] back on Senator Morton. It says the best elements of the Republican party must find expression in its political management; that corruption must be exposed wherever it exists, and regardless of consequences, and that none but men of tried character and approved honesty must be placed in office. It is encouraging to see that such papers as the Journal are getting their eyes open to the danger the party incurs in its policy of filling the offices with men of tried character and approved dishonesty and casting out those of tried character and disapproved honesty.

The Vicksburg Herald has this plan for resumption of specie payments. The government should repeal the resumption act but resume at once. What coin it has or accumulates over what is wanted for the interest on its bonds it should pay out for national notes at par. As long as it has out national money, and has coin it should exchange at par of the holders of the notes ask it. In this way it may pay out all its coin many times, but it will finally gradually destroy the distrust of national money which it can never do by discounting it.

Attorney General Pierrepont about the time of the trial of the whiskey cases out west wrote to the District Attorneys a letter which was in effect an order stating in substance that they should not use the testimony of accomplices in actions against conspirators to defraud the government of its revenue. This action of his has been inquired into by a committee of the House and as the result of their investigation the committee have recommended the adoption of a resolution asking the Attorney General to revoke his order.

Remember the school election today. Don't let it go by default. Everything appears to be safe for continuance of the excellent rule the District has had; but it is a bad habit to fall into that of letting school elections take care of themselves. We have been informed the present excellent director and clerk whose terms now expire will, if elected, serve again. The district can not do better than to re-elect them.

There is a good deal of complaint among Republicans of Washington county on account of what many consider an unfair apportionment of delegates to the county convention from the different precincts. From what information we have on the subject we are inclined to think the basis of apportionment is not one that will give the Republicans of all the precincts an equal representation in the convention.

The city of New York has gained a 6,000,000 verdict against Boss Tweed in spite of the efforts of Mr. D. D. Field to prevent it. But as there is very little tangible property out of which to satisfy this judgment the spirit of a certain deceased novelist should be applied to know what will they do with it.

More Light Wanted. — Whe[illegible] particular can be blamed directly for the sad and untimely death of the young Frenchman Adolphus Joron who lost his life at the [illegible] S. Co's dock last Saturday morning [illegible] responsibility ought to be attached to some source. From what we can learn of the circumstance of the drowning of Joron it appears that there were no lights used [illegible] dock at the time, to enable passengers to get safely ashore. A narrow gang plank was thrown out, and persons were [illegible] to grope their way through the darkness as best they could. Purser Stone it seems was the first to come ashore and being better acquainted with the premises attempted [illegible] the others. He was just as likely to have lost his footing and found a watery grave as Joron. To avoid such liabilities the company should be required to employ a number of lights about the docks when steamers land after night. Accidents might, by this [illegible] precaution be averted.

Passenger List. — The steamship [illegible] which sailed from San Francisco for Portland last Saturday brings the following passengers: [illegible] R. Koehler, G P Terrill, H S [illegible] Robinson, F M Stone, J H [illegible] Hall, D Brannun, Jos Bender, F S [illegible] P E Brigham, Mrs L [illegible] Barrows and daughter, E. Annual School Election and Meeting. — To-day the annual election for School District No. 1, in Portland, will be held at Weigand's building, corner Third and Morrison streets, for the purpose of electing one school director to serve for three years, and a clerk to serve for one year. Polls will be open from 2 to 6 o'clock P M. Lloyd Brooke, J R Witherell and C S Silver judges, A N Gambel and R H Cardwell, clerks. There will also be an annual meeting of the tax payers of the district held at the Central schoolhouse next Monday April 10th, at 7.30 P M for the purpose of hearing the annual reports of the directors and clerk, also for the purpose of levying a tax for the support of the schools for the ensuing year, and to build or rent houses for school purposes, as well as for incidental expenses, and to transact any other business that may properly come before the meeting.

Emmet Guard. — Pursuant to [illegible] ment the Emmet Guard [illegible] from their old quarters to the new armory on Saturday where they were put through the manual of arms by Capt. Phelan in the presence of a number of ladies and gentlemen. During the intervals of rest the band from St. Michael's College, consisting of some ten boys none of them exceed 17 years of age, executed several pieces very cleverly considering the brief time they have been in practice. They are in charge of Rev. J. S. White of the College, and in time will get along much better. The opening of Emmet Guard armory in Bacon's building, southeast corner of Stark and First streets, was a success.

Dramatic and Musical. — The fourth entertainment of the dramatic section Turn Verein was given last evening at Turn Halle and the auditorium was as usual well filled by those who could best appreciate the performance — Germans. Each succeeding dramatic and musical performance is more attractive than those preceding which is sufficient to say in regard to the entertainment of last night. We trust that those having the management of such at fairs will see proper to give a performance during the week, when many who do not care to go on Sunday evening may have an opportunity to do so.

Closing Song Service. — A [illegible] throng greeted the McGibeny family at their song service last evening at Oro Fino Theater. OVERBOARD—DROWNED.

Saturday morning about [illegible] o'clock a young man named Adolphus Joron fell from the lower [illegible] of the Oregon Steamship Company [illegible] and was drowned. The facts, so far as [illegible], are as follows: Joron was a passenger on board the steamer [illegible] having come aboard at Fort Wrangel. The steamer had just touched the wharf; a narrow gang plank thrown out and the passengers waited [illegible] to commence [illegible] Purser Stone, on the [illegible] started to go ashore first, followed by Joron. Just before the lock was reached Joron missed his footing in the darkness and fell overboard. An alarm was given and boats lowered as quickly as possible. But all efforts proved unavailing. Joron was heavily clad having a considerable quantity of gold dust in a belt which encircled his waist and a large navy revolver strapped to him. He sunk almost immediately after reaching the water. Search was made for the body and it was recovered in about half an hour after the unfortunate man fell overboard. Coroner Wetmore was notified and proceeded to hold an inquest over the remains Saturday forenoon. During the investigation which followed it was ascertained that Joron was a Canadian Frenchman by birth, that he took passage on the [illegible] at Fort Wrangel for Portland, that he came to the latter place from Stockton, where he had been engaged in mining for the past two years and that deceased had an interest in the Wyoming Mining company of Dease Creek. After hearing all the evidence in the matter the jury returned the following verdict:

We the jury empanelled by the coroner [illegible] to inquire into the cause of the death of the body now lying before us do find that the name of the deceased was Adolphus Joron, a native of Canada, aged about [illegible] years and that he came to his death by accidental drowning in the Willamette river by falling from the lower end of the Oregon Steamship Co's dock in the city of Portland about 5.30 o'clock A M April 1st 1876. [illegible] Foster (foreman), [illegible] Stone, [illegible] Henley, [illegible] Thomas, Frank Hernstrom.

A quantity of gold dust was found on the person of Joron amounting to from a thousand to fifteen hundred dollars. This money together with a silver watch and other valuables were placed in the custody of Mr Geo W Weidler who will turn the same over to the coroner or county judge. Nothing at all is known of Joron what part of Canada he came from, or where or whom his relations are. Coroner Wetmore had a picture taken of deceased yesterday hoping that it might be the means of leading to his identification. This is certainly a sensible course to pursue and may result in identifying the drowned man. Canadian papers are requested to give publicity to the facts above mentioned. On the way down from Wrangel, Joron told some of the passengers that he was intending to go to the Black Hills this summer.

EUGENE ITEMS.

Under date of April 1st our Eugene correspondent sends the following:

The merchants of Eugene have begun to lay in their spring stocks. Nearly all of them purchase in Portland.

The grouse are again enlivening the woods with their hoot and the sportsmen are preparing to make havoc with them.

The result obtained from opening the grave of the suicide at Albany has revived rumors as to the burial of a recent unfortunate in this place. It is whispered by some that the grave contains an empty coffin and that the remains found their way to the dissecting table.

W H Abrams, proprietor of the saw mills at this place has invented an edger that performs in the most satisfactory manner. It takes the cants as they come from the main saw which after being placed in position are split into the desired thickness without assistance from any one. The reverse motion of the carriage and turning of the screws is accomplished by an ingenious arrangement of cogs and levers. We understand that Mr Abrams has applied for a patent.

The city school and fire elections all take place next Monday, and some lively work may be expected. Some of our citizens who have advanced far enough to see the value of education are endeavoring to levy a tax sufficient for building a good public school house to take the place of the dilapidated old barn where school is now held. We do not however from past experience, believe their efforts will be crowned with success.

THE STAGE.

Omar Kingsley is ring master in Montgomery Queen's circus.

[illegible] D Kelly, R H Cox and D Belasco are at Baldwin's Opera House San Francisco.

Figaro, on the 25th ult says: "Amongst the new artists engaged for Wade's Opera House are J H Vinson, James H Ward and Mr Sabrey, who should be in town by this time."

Mrs Fannie Marston was to have given an operatic season at Sacramento commencing on the 22d ult, but the subscriptions were not sufficiently numerous and it has been postponed.

Says Figaro: J Al Sawtelle has just returned from playing in Eureka Humboldt Bay. He reports that the late storms killed Frank Jones' engagement. Jones however, has remained there and will try again when the weather has settled. Miss Amy Stone [illegible] ceed the Musical Moke. We should like to see Jones and Sawtell here for a season.

Don't fail to get your coffee at Fabre & Barnes, to day.

That popular clothier [illegible] has at last returned and together with his clerks was busy yesterday opening a large and handsome assortment of clothing such as must certainly meet with favor. Mr [illegible] has spared neither time or expense [illegible] the very best and latest goods [illegible] His [illegible] upon his success [illegible] for which he presides [illegible] customers from this time forth.

The Lafayette Courier says: Some of the farmers in Yamhill county are losing part of their fall sown wheat. In some places the plant has a yellowish cast. This is only the case where the grain was sown early and is thought to be caused by bugs eating the root. A correspondent of the Farmer says the Cabell mine, Grant county, opened less than two years ago, and worked with imperfect facilities, has turned out nearly $100,000 in gold and silver bullion principally silver. Mr Cabell is improving his machinery as fast as possible for working and saving the precious metals and proposes the coming season to employ sixty or seventy laborers in the different operations about the mine. Mr Cabell has been pushing operations ahead during the winter, preparing for a big run in the spring. Wood and water are handy to this mine and it is proving a big bonanza. Mr Cabell is a man of great energy as he has proven by his operation in this mine. He commenced as it were at the bed rock and has all along made the mine self supporting and now has his fortune at his fingers' end.

THE OREGON RAILROAD

INTERVIEW WITH THE GERMAN BONDHOLDERS' AGENT

Mr Villard [illegible] of the German bondholders of the Oregon and California Railroad is at present at the Palace Hotel in this city on his way to Oregon to reorganize the railroad company there and adopting the best means of forwarding the work A Chronicle reporter called up on him last evening at his room to obtain some information as to his intended plan of operation To the reporter's inquiry as to how much of the stock was held in Germany, Mr Villard replied

About $11,000 000 In fact the whole road is held by German bondholders I am also agent for the owners of the Oregon Central Railroad Company and the steamship company formerly owned by Holladay In the Oregon Central road no bonds have yet been issued certain bankers in Germany and in England and whom I represent, having furnished the money for the road thus far'

THE ARRANGEMENT WITH B HOLLADAY

Reporter—What arrangements have you made with Mr Holladay?

Mr Villard—Well, I'll tell you You may recollect for it was published in the Chronicle at the time that two years ago the bondholders failed to get more than one third of the interest due on the bonds, and so made a contract with Mr Holladay which set forth that he was to pay $50 000 per year the payments to be made semi annually in case the road did not pay them two and a half per cent This the road failed to do and so the payment of the money mentioned devolved on Mr Holladay He made only one payment the first due, of $25 000, and failed to make any afterward The bondholders were then

NO BETTER OFF THAN BEFORE

I was in this country at the time and went back to Germany for authority I then returned and as the bondholders wished to avoid the expense of a suit for foreclosure Mr Holladay agreed with me to compromise the matter and quietly stepped out of the Oregon and California Railroad the Oregon Central road and the steamship line The bonds of the Oregon and California Railroad are scattered among various parties but the other two corporations are now owned by the bankers I spoke of

THE OBJECT OF MR VILLARD'S VISIT

Reporter—Then I suppose the object of your present visit is to reorganize things and start [illegible] with the railroads [illegible]

Mr Villard [illegible] that I can [illegible] an [illegible] some competent man he will be placed at the head I suppose I shall be assisted by the railroad engineer who was sent out to Oregon [illegible] some two years ago With regard to the steamship line there will be no change We expect however to purchase two new steamers in New York and place them on the line this summer

COMPLETING THE RAILROAD

Reporter—What shall you do with reference to the railroads?

Mr Villard Nothing definite has as yet been decided upon We have [illegible] built as far as 200 miles south of Portland and the Central Pacific have built 150 miles north of Sacramento I have been making negotiations with the company for some time and we hope to make an arrangement with them to [illegible] plete the road by joint effort We should be glad to have them take it off our hands It may be that we shall complete our road to the State line and connect with theirs running as a company separately but what will be done I really can't tell as nothing is yet determined upon There is at present and has been for the last four years a gap of 300 miles of ground [illegible] I am prepared [illegible] to be laid before the road will be finished

PLUMMER FRUIT DRYER.

AS A PROOF OF WHAT I HAVE HERETOFORE stated to the people of Oregon I give below a letter from the Plummer Fruit Drying Co of East Portland After the close of business of the [illegible] fully endorsing it after using it one entire season and as a proof to substantiate what they say they now contemplate putting up another Dryer of the same capacity of the one they now have which will increase their capacity to five hundred bushels of apples per day Having now located here in Portland for the purpose of supplying the demand for Fruit Dryers in Oregon and Washington Territory I can supply these dryers at a cost of from $1 000 to $7 000 according to capacity Warranted to dry from 4 to 20 bushels of apples per hour at a small cost for labor and fuel These machines being so cheap and simple in construction they cannot fail to supersede all other known machines I would also say to the fruit growers that I have invented a Machine (and am now waiting for a patent) that will cut and spread the fruit on the trays with a very small amount of labor I also have invented a Peach Parer that is on an entirely new principle paring soft as well as hard does its work well with great speed and slices and pits the fruit ready for the Dryer in the best possible manner and at a great saving in quantity of fruit

Having become somewhat acquainted with the wants of the people I find that a cheap DRYER is what is wanted and one that will do good work and a large amount of it I have so modified my Dryer as to meet that demand and can now guarantee my CHEAP DRYER to do as good work as any and as large an amount of it, and the price is within the reach of all

FRUIT DRYER TESTIMONIALS.

EAST PORTLAND Jan 4th 1876

MR W S PLUMMER—Dear Sir As this is a time when all are much interested in Fruit Drying we think that in justice to you and for the information of the public it is but right and proper that we should give all the information that we can Now after having operated your Dryer during this season we feel warranted in saying that for the amount of money invested we still believe as we did from the start that your Dryer is the best Dryer yet introduced into this country The capacity of the Dryer we find to be about 8 (eight) bushels per hour The Dried fruit we claim to be as good as any though perhaps not as much bleached as the Alden Fruit and we are satisfied that we can produce Dried Fruit at less expense than the Alden The stockholders of our company manifested their confidence in the Plummer Dryer at our meeting last Saturday by a unanimous vote to increase the capital stock $12 000 (twelve thousand dollars) for the purpose of building one more Dryer to the present one and making other improvements for next season We will further say that we believe that by an improvement made by the patentee in the Heater and [illegible] that there will be an increase of capacity and a saving of fuel

EAST PORTLAND Dec 13 1875

MR PLUMMER—Dear Sir I have been watching both the Alden and your Fruit Dryer [illegible] to determine which was the best Machine for drying Prunes I visited the Alden Dryer at Oregon City and examined the Prunes dried on that Machine and I have also examined several lots dried on your Machine at East Portland and my opinion is that your Dryer is far the best Machine for drying Prunes My reasons are these Your Machine dries them without bursting or cracking while I noticed that a great deal of the fruit dried on the Alden Machine was bursted open and after a Prune is burst in drying it is worthless for market as a Prune therefore I can recommend your Machine for drying Prunes or any thing else Yours truly
